S. RELEASING ITS HOLD UPON ISLAND

ARMY OFFICERS TELL CONDITIONS AMONG CUBANS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.-Army offi cers and other officials returning from Cuba express privately, but confident ly, the conviction that it may be sev eral-years before the Cubans are again given free rein on the Island. The most surprising development was the wel righ universal demand among the Cubans of the intelligent class for the United States to continue indefinitely its present control of the island. They do not talk thus openly, but to Sec retary Taft and members of his party they expressed their minds plainly and with a shudder of dread, the hope that the American government would not release for a second time its hold upon the island.

SENATOR ELKINS TALKS A LIT TLE POLITICS AND SOME BUSINESS AT BALTI-MORE.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 16 .- United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, of Elkins, W. Va., was the guest at dinne Sunday night of President Oscar G. Murray, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, at the latter's residence here. When approached Senator Elkins decimed to divulge the nature of his business here. Men in financial and railroad circles attach considerable importance to his visit.

"You can absolutely deny the ru more and Ohlo or the Wabash," he said when asked if that was the ob ject of the conference.

Asked as to politics in West Virgin

WAGE EARNERS GET FINE SHARE

Bulletin by the U.S. Government

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 .- A bullein on wages, hours of labor, and retail prices of food just issued by the United States Bureau of Labor is of interest at this time for the reason that it shows that wage earners are obtaining a full share of the unprecedented prosperity of the country. The investigations of the Bureau as to wages and hours of labor covered all the principal manufacturing and mechanical industries of the United States for the sixteen years from 1890 to 1905, and the prices of food are given for the same period.

The first years covered by the report were years of a high degree of prosperity when measured by standards of the past. Then came the depression of 1893 and the succeeding years followed by the wave of prosperity that is now sweeping over the country and that is rising constantly higher. An excellent idea of the effect of this revival of business on wage earners is afforded by a comparison of the statistics of 1905 with those of 1894. Such a comparison shows that the average wage per hour has in creased 21.5 per cent., while the average hours worked per week has decreased 3.9 per cent. So that the average workman, working shorte: hours than in 1894 earns 16.7 per cent, more per week. During this same period there has been a generincrease in wages. The increase in he price of food, weighted according to the average family consumpthe families of 2,567 workingmen, has amounted to only 12.7 per cent., and the average wage would purchase 7. per cent, more food in 1905 than in

All people informed in theatricals know that this attraction is headed by an actor the peer of any on the stage, and also know that the large cast of principals, a list of whom have been given from time to time are of unusual talent, and any one of whom heading a company would make a strong attraction. Besides the company numbers eighty people, and carries an orcnestra of its own, which is so essential in bringing out to the best possible advantage the strong points of a musical production.
